KUHNS BROS. HOSTS TOUR FOR LOG HOMES COUNCIL MEMBERS

Washington D.C./Lewisburg, PA – for immediate release April 5, 2006 - The Log Homes Council (LHC) of the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) honored log home professionals and companies last week during the annual Log Homes Council President’s Tour in Harrisburg, PA. Honorees were recognized for service to the industry and the Log Homes Council. The group also toured Kuhns Bros. Log Homes’ corporate headquarters (over 200 acres) in Lewisburg, PA. More than 150 log home professionals attended the tour.

“It has been a tremendous year for the log homes industry and the future looks even brighter,” said Al Theriault, incoming LHC president and director of operations for Kuhns Bros. Log Homes. “More home buyers are considering log homes as primary residences. The increased visibility and awareness of the log home industry is a credit to members of the Log Homes Council and, in particular, those that we have recognized tonight.” Approximately 27,000 new log homes were constructed in the United States in 2005.

The Log Homes Council was founded in 1976 and merged with the National Association of Home Builders (NAHB) in the mid-1980s to bring unity and standards to the log homes industry. Currently the 60-member Log Homes Council is a member of NAHB’s Building Systems Councils. All Log Homes Council members abide by the council’s ethical and technical standards to be considered for membership. For more information on the Log Homes Council, visit www.loghomes.org.
